

dry, of Quincy, Ill. He opened for these people their plant at Springfield, Ill., and remained in charge of same for a number of years thereafter.

The whirr of the machinery on every side and the many busy hands deftly performing their specially assigned duties, and the incessant clamor of the engine will give some idea as to how this great work is done. Mr. Walton is certainly to be complimented for the business ability he displays in the management of this concern, and he can well be and is justly proud of the business he has built up. He is an energetic and free business man, who is thoroughly conversant with his business and desirous of pleasing the public. Prompt and quick delivery is assured all patrons. He has established a number of agencies throughout the country and is every day making more, and there seems to be no reason why he should not in the near future control the entire trade of this territory.

Mr. Walton was born in Lafayette, Ind., September 23, 1877, and received his education in the schools of his native state and this city.

Prior to this establishment of the laundry plant, he was for eight years in the employ of the Pacific Express Company.

Mr. Walton is a member of the K. of P. lodge. He is recognized by all as an honorable, upright and progressive young man.
