

We proudly present to you the NHS network — the network that looks back at the previous year and all we've done — the thrill of victory, the agony of defeat, the human drama of academic competition, our pride showing, our laughs, our tears. and, most of all, You Were There.

One of the favorite shows on the NHS network is the talk show. Every year the first program is "The Bill Wiggins Forecast." This is followed by more specialized presentations such as "ASDF; LKJ," "The FOIL Rule," "How to do Term Papers," and "Ten Ways To Get Kicked out of the Library," to name only a few. Some are long, some boring, some mildly amusing, but all are a part of the NHS network.
